

The French Broad Hustler

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

Have you listed your taxes yet?

Mr. Lucy Garrett, of South Carolina, has purchased a lot on Hyman Heights.

Mrs. DeCamp of Greenville, S. C., has leased the Hatch place for the summer.

The democratic congressional convention for this district meets in Asheville a week from next Saturday.

LOST—Pocket-book, containing $10.50, Saturday afternoon last. Liberal reward. Apply to Hunter's Pharmacy.

Majorities are not always right; were it otherwise now might be an appropriate time to call an election to repeal the Bible.

Mrs. Jones Barnett and other Asheville friends attended the funeral of Mrs. P. D. Heffner in this city last week.

W. A. Gariand reports the sale of two lots on Hyman Heights to Mrs. J. B. Seawell, who will erect a handsome residence of twelve rooms, with two bath rooms.

Ernest Jordan, one of the most popular of our young men, has left for the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where he will enter Uncle Sam's service as an electrician, a most desirable berth in the navy.

Mrs. H. C. Johnson, nee Miss Callie Greer, of Asheville, visited relatives and friends at her old home near Etowah last week. She came up to attend the funeral of Mrs. Plato Heffner.

Superintendent Ray attended the convention of County Superintendents held in Raleigh this week and received much valuable information from the deliberations of that distinguished body of prominent educators.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Williams will be pleased to hear that their six year old son, who recently broke his arm in two places, is recovering, and the Doctors say the bones will unite. It was at first feared that amputation would be necessary.

Maj. S. V. Pickens represented the democracy of Henderson county in the judicial convention at Marion on Saturday and it is needless to say he performed that duty "to the Queen's taste." Says he enjoyed the trip all right.

The editor enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. G. W. Lyda's pleasant home in Edneyville on Monday of last week and the welcome extended was of the old southern kind. Mr. Lyda and his kind wife treated their guest with every courtesy, spreading before him such delectable viands that would thoroughly satisfy any hungry way-farer. Thanks. Look for ye scribe again sometime.

The many friends of Mr. W. K. Monroe will learn with deep sorrow of his death, which occurred in Nashville last Sunday, June 17, at 9 p. m. Mr. Monroe was one of the best mill men in the South, and was, for a number of years, foreman of the Nashville Hosiery Mills. He would have been 25 years old on June 19. Further mention will be made next week.

Thro' the courtesy of the telephone company, the Board of Trade now have a telephone in their office in the town hall. Visitors are cordially invited to call and make use of it, and to write their letters there, and make themselves at home generally. Miss Smathers, the assistant secretary will be pleased to give all information desired about the town, etc.

E. J. Norton, a prominent merchant in Wisconsin, writing the Board of Trade for information relative to this city says: "I read the article in the Florida Times-Union of the editor's trip to Hendersonville and how nicely they were treated, and it struck me as being about right. I am thinking of coming there in October and would like to have some advance information." Which shows the advantages of advertising.

Mrs. Joseph Carson and daughters, the Misses Carson, gave a most enjoyable reception last Thursday, from 2 to 7, at their beautiful home, "Fernwood," on the Flat Rock road. The dining room looked very pretty in white and green, while the reception room was beautiful with crimson rambling roses. Refreshments were served, and there were a large number present.

The North Carolina Farmers' State Convention, will be held at A. and M. College, Raleigh, July 10, 11, and 12, 1906. The Farmers' Convention is an organization of farmers for study and discussion of practical agricultural subjects. The program includes attention to all important phases of our State agricultural endeavor. Special programs are provided for Cotton and Tobacco Farmers; for Dairymen; and for Women. Able speakers will discuss important subjects. Excursion rates on all Railroads. Board and room at the College, $1.00 per day. The Farmers' Convention provides a pleasant and instructive outing at small cost. Information may be had by addressing Secretary Farmers' Convention, West Raleigh, N. C.

Mrs. J. M. Waldrop has 21 boarders in her house on Broad St.

The hard storm of Monday morning did much damage to garden stuff.

Mrs. Burden, of Summerville, S. C., has leased Mr. A. M. Huger's cottage near the Park.

Mrs. S. N. Weirmorts, of Columbia, S. C., has leased the G. S. Jones place on N. Main street.

Mrs. E. C. Bedell, of Greenville, S. C., is occupying Mrs. Kate Allen's place on Shaw's Creek street.

Mrs. D. E. Webb, of Charleston, S. C., has taken the W. P. Bartlett place on Anderson Avenue, for the summer.

The Board of Trade office in the town hall has a very handsome awning, which is both convenient and ornamental.

M. L. Gullick, from Greenville S. C., and his 13 year old son who weighs 185 lbs; is up visiting his brother, our townsman 'W. G. Gullick.

R. Fleming Bowden, of Jacksonville, Fla., is stopping at the "Florida House." Mr. Bowden has just been nominated for sheriff of his county, which means that he will be elected, as he is one of the most popular men of that section.

The Hendersonville Hospital Association will meet hereafter on the last Thursday of each month. Let every member be present at the next meeting which will be held at Mrs. C. E. Wilson's on Thursday, June 28th at 4 p. m.

Judge Chambers, of Washington, who served on the Spanish Claims Commission, and who has occupied numerous other positions of honor and trust under the government, is now in the city, having leased "Bealewood" for the season.

Mr. H. Brawley, clerk of the Blue Ridge Inn says he thinks there is no town like Hendersonville. Mr. Brawley's home is in Mooresville, N. C., and he has been attending school down in Georgia. He is a most genial and pleasant young man, and is a decided acquisition to our citizenship.

The Board of Trade meets this Thursday, at 8 o'clock, and all members and the public generally are expected to attend. Matters of interest to all our citizens will be discussed, and a full attendance is desirable. The meetings of the Board hereafter will be held once a month.

Smith & Waldrop, Real Estate Brokers, have sold 2 lots on Church and Willow streets to Sam T. Hodges. 2 lots on Church St., to H. C. Hyder. 2 lots on Church and Brook streets to J. B. Arlege. 4 lots on Brook and Washington streets to J. C. Morrow, the property of Claude Brown.

The private exchange is now installed in the Hotel Gates, and is in complete working order. The work is really a credit to Mr. Thomas, of the Asheville Telephone and Telegraph Company, who superintended it. It has given no trouble whatever since being put in, and the convenience of it to the guests, who may telephone almost anywhere without leaving their rooms, is very great. Miss Eugene Wall is the capable and efficient operator in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Green are in the city, and will occupy the old Grant place for several weeks. Mr. Green is the head of the freight traffic department of the whole Southern Railway, and except President Spence, is the highest paid official of that great system. Mr. Green and his wife arrived in their private car.

Neptune Buckner will open, on Thursday, June 21, a strictly up-to-date souvenir store, in one half of the store now occupied by Smith's bakery. He will carry a complete line of souvenirs of Hendersonville and vicinity, souvenir postals, wood and leather souvenirs, and will elch, free of charge, names on all rhododendron wood and leather souvenirs purchased from him.

Be it resolved, that we the members of Hendersonville Lodge No. 116 K. of P., having learned of the death of the wife of brother P. D. Heffner, hereby desire to extend to him our sincere sympathy, and heart felt sorrow in his affliction.

BOMER HAWKINS,
J. C. MORROW,
F. W. EWBANK,
Committee.

The Woodmen of the World will organize, this (Wednesday) night in court house, at 8:30. State Manager E. B. Lewis, will be here and the public are urged to come out and listen to this good talker. Organizer J. L. Goldsmith and Deputies J. H. Kimzey and R. E. McBrayer will also make short talks on the subject of secret societies.

Mrs. Dr. Egerton leaves on Thursday for an extended tour of the north and west. She will visit Philadelphia, Chicago, and the towns between, Denver, Pike's Peak, spend seven days in nature's wonderland, Yellowstone Park, go up into British Columbia, stop at Seattle, visit the ruins of San Francisco, see beautiful Los Angeles, and many other points before returning home, being absent about six weeks. Mrs. Egerton's health has not been of the best, and it is hoped the trip will benefit her greatly. Dr. Egerton will not accompany Mrs. Egerton, being unable just now to leave his practice.

The cluster of electric lights in the ceiling is a beautiful one, giving a soft, clear light, and adds much to the attractiveness of its pleasant and comfortable lobby in the Blue Ridge Inn.

The short, severe storm of Monday morning was responsible for considerable damage in the city. Trees were injured, and many telephones were placed out of commission. The big pine standing in front of Lieut. Reed's house, and not ten feet from it, was struck by lightning, and almost completely destroyed. The bolt played a strange prank, as it not only split the tree, but broke it up into many large and small pieces. Part of it fell over on the house, without, however, causing any damage. Mrs. Reed had just passed under the tree when the bolt struck. A robin was found in the tree completely stripped of its feathers, and with a small hole in its head. It is considered a very narrow escape for Lieut. Reed's house and its occupants.

The Hotel Gates had an informal opening Tuesday night, and many of our citizens were present to hear the orchestra and to inspect the big hotel. The hostelry was ablaze with lights, the white enameled woodwork, the delicately tinted walls, and the ladies in their evening dress, making a pretty picture. The orchestra is remarkably fine, the selections rendered were in admirable taste, and the evening was a most enjoyable one. Mr. A. A. Gates announces the formal opening on July 2nd, when many friends from Greenville, Asheville, and other points will be present. Mr. Gates says the indications point towards a most satisfactory season for the hotel.

J. D. Murphy will be Temporary Chairman.

Chairman M. L. Shipman, of the tenth congressional district democratic executive committee, has designated Hon. J. D. Murphy, of Asheville, to be temporary chairman of the district convention called to assemble in Asheville on June 30th.

Outside Capital Being Attracted to Hendersonville.

The recent sale of the building now occupied by the Bank of Hendersonville, for $10,000, to Mr. E. O. Edwards, of Sumter, S. C., is one more indication of what outside capitalists think of the future of this progressive town. In addition to buying the property occupied by the bank, Mr. Orr also purchased from Mr. Grimes the old John Grant property, and two of John Orr's model cottages. Mr. Edwards is satisfied that Hendersonville is the coming city of Western North Carolina, and is backing his faith with money.

The Bank of Hendersonville, will, of course remain in the building, as they have a lease for a term of years. The sale of the building has absolutely nothing to do with the bank itself. Indeed, as a matter of fact, it places this already strong and popular institution in a better position than ever to serve its patrons, with the additional capital received from the sale of the building. It is interesting to note, also, that the Bank of Hendersonville is a home institution, the stock being owned here, paying state, and county taxes, and returning the money earned into the community.

For a long time past there has been a persistent rumor to the effect that Mr. J. P. Rickman, president of the Bank of Hendersonville, intends erecting a modern bank and office building. While we are unable to obtain an affirmation or denial of this rumor, the sale of the land and building seems to lend some color to it, and it would not be surprising to see the Bank of Hendersonville housed in a handsome new structure before long.

In two words, the sale of the property has absolutely nothing to do with the bank itself, except to place it in a still stronger position than ever before. Mr. J. P. Rickman, one of the most prominent and popular bankers in Western North Carolina, and who has the confidence of every business man in this section of the country, will remain at the head of the Bank of Hendersonville, directing and increasing its sphere of usefulness and service to the community, lending himself to all those movements which he believes to be of true benefit to his home town and county, and which, we are confident, will some day compel him to erect a building to accommodate this bank which will be a suitable home for it, and which will give Hendersonville a modern handsome, up-to-date bank and office structure.
